I am a graguate student in business with arrays of knowledge in marketing, strategy, data analytics and financial management ,which I learnt during my time at university. I have very sound skills In accounting system, financial reporting and analysis. I am also much more interested in the study of business cycles, credit cycles management, and study about the changes of macro economical variables at large. My focus areas mostly revolves around the fundamental shifts in the technological breakthroughs and how the newly adjusted businesses will capture the values in the new eras of data, AI, block chain, and clean energy.
