Objective:

Seeking to leverage my academic background, particularly my Master's degree from Banaras Hindu University (BHU) and my qualification in the National Eligibility Test (NET) with Junior Research Fellowship (JRF), to pursue a Ph.D. program at South Asian University. My experience at BHU has not only equipped me with a strong analytical mindset but has also fuelled my passion for understanding socio-economic dynamics, especially in the context of globalization. I am particularly interested in exploring the topic of "Unveiling Inequality: Impact of Globalization on Class Disparity in India" for my doctoral research, believing it will not only contribute to academic discourse but also offer insights that can benefit developing countries across South Asia.
